

NATIONAL NUTRITION MONTH

MARCH

March 2023 Newsletter

Boost Your Nutrition to Boost Your Health!

March is National Nutrition Month, a good time to think about what we eat and how we can improve our diets to maximize our health. But when it comes to expert advice on good nutrition and healthy dining, does it seem like the goal posts keep moving? Certainly, there are a lot of food fads and diets of the day, but the basics have remained consistent over the years. A recent article in the New York Times on nutrition myths quotes nutrition expert Dr. Marion Nestle: "In the 1950s, the first dietary recommendations for prevention of obesity, Type 2 diabetes, heart disease, and the like advised balancing calories and minimizing foods high in saturated fat, salt, and sugar. The current U.S. Dietary Guidelines urge the same." The article also cites author Michael Pollan's seven simple words of advice: "Eat food. Not too much. Mostly plants."

Here are some tips we've gathered from nutrition experts and our own coaches over the years:

- Don't skip breakfast
- Fill half your plate with fruits and vegetables
- Increase your fiber intake
- Watch portion sizes
- Learn to read food labels
- Make healthy, colorful

- snacks
- Drink more water
- Reduce consumption of processed foods
- Cook with fresh, local ingredients
- Search menus for healthy options when dining out
- Limit added sugar and salt
- Eat seafood twice a week
- Explore new foods and flavors
- Experiment with plant-based meals
- Slow down – practice mindful eating
- Cut down on saturated fats
- Avoid sugary drinks
- Practice "5 a day" for your intake of fruits and vegetables.
